

Environmental Permitting Guideline Manual Training

DESCRIPTION:

This three-hour class will provide training in the use of the Hawaii Department of Transportation's (DOT) Environmental Permitting Guideline Manual. The main components of the Manual will be reviewed, and an example of how to use the Manual for a selected environmental process will be demonstrated.

The Environmental Permitting Guideline Manual has been developed to streamline the delivery of roadway projects, eligible for Categorical Exclusions, Exemptions and Environmental Assessments. It serves as a guide for State DOT Highways Staff and consultants. The Manual provides background information on and instructions to navigate the regulatory processes commonly encountered in the planning and design of projects. Use of the Manual will help to expedite project delivery by increasing the quality of permit applications, clarifying the permit process and thereby expediting their approval by environmental agencies.

The class will not address the environmental processing of complex or controversial projects, such as those that require an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS).

TARGET AUDIENCE:

The class is intended to benefit engineers with responsibility for the environmental clearance and permitting of roadway projects.
